By ROBERT TUCKMAN

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government today said the Communists had threatened to bomb U. S. warships in the Taiwan Strait and they soon may need help to keep their supply lines open.

Adm. Liu Hsiang-shan, chief of the Nationalist military, refused to tell newsmen whether U. S. warships might be asked to escort supply convoys to the islands just off the Communist mainland.

There have been persistent rumors that ships of the U. S. 7th Fleet would soon start escort duty to the offshore islands.

Dispatch of U. S. vessels to guard Quemoy-bound convoys would send the ships across Red China's new 12-mile sea limit. The Peking government has indicated it would regard such action as an invasion of its territory.

Liu's remarks followed Thursday's reported U. S. decision to help defend Quemoy and Matsu against any Communist invasion—possibly by bombing Red bases on the China mainland.

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China was faced today with the prospect of having its mainland bases blasted by U. S. bombers if it starts a war in the Formosa Strait.

If things came to that pass, what Red China might start as a limited brush fire war could ignite a raging combat threatening to engulf the whole world—conceivable even a universally dreaded all-out atomic conflict.

This tough new U. S. attitude toward Red China's militarism was officially disclosed at Newport, R. I., Thursday by a top U. S. authority.

Liquor Tax Take Drops Considerably

WASHINGTON (AP)—Conviviality appears to have been among the victims of the business recession.

The Treasury reported today that alcohol tax collections in the year ended June 30 dropped $26,734,000 below those of the previous year, reflecting smaller liquor sales.

Most of the decline to a total of $2,046,481,000 was the result of diminished demand for whiskey, gin and other distilled spirits. Beer and wine sales were off only fractionally.

But spirits revived with last spring's economic upturn. In the April-May-June quarter alcohol tax collections totaled $749,410,000, well ahead of collections in the same quarter last year.

Ballet Lessons Finally Pay Off for Girl

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Twelve years of ballet lessons paid off Thursday night for a Connecticut girl entered in the 1958 Miss America Pageant.

Billie Jean Turner, 20, of New Canaan danced her way to victory in the second preliminary talent competition with her interpretation of Chopin's "Les Sylphides."

In the second night of swim suit competition, meanwhile, Miss Indiana, whose favorite sport is swimming, showed her winning form and got the judges' nod.

While Billie Jean performed before a panel of 11 judges and a convention hall crowd of 7,000 persons, Anita Marie Hush and Goshen, Ind., waited off with her own prize.

Anita Marie, a 19-year-old brunette sophomore at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., stands 5 feet 6½ inches, weighs 120 and measures 34½-24-35.

Billie Jean, who automatically receives a $1,000 scholarship for winning the talent competition, said she will use it to continue her dancing studies.

Her dance against 17 other talent competitors, Miss Connecticut wore a traditional white ballet costume with satin bodice and white net ballerina-length skirt. A wreath of flowers encircled her head.

The preliminary competition, which ends tonight, gives each of the 52 girls in the contest a chance to take part in each of three categories: talent, swim suit and evening gown.

In addition, each of the girls is judged on personality in brief interviews with judges.

The successor to Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo., will be selected Saturday night.

Witnesses to Hold Bible Lecture

Herbert H. Nutt, local minister for Jehovah's Witnesses announced that a special Bible lecture entitled "Is Love Practical Among The Nations In Our Time" will be given Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. in the Little Log Cabin, Experiment Station, Hope, Arkansas.

C. W. Fisher, a traveling circuit minister for the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society will be the speaker. Mr. Fisher has addressed audiences in many of the states during his travels. He is also a graduate of the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead, South Lansing, New York.

Faubus Pledges Help in Keeping 3% Sales Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said yesterday his support of a campaign to retain Arkansas' three per cent sales tax could be expected.

Faubus said he hadn't made any definite commitments for participating in such a drive, however.

He discussed the issue with Marvin Bird of Earle, chairman of the state Board of Education, and Forrester Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Assn.

Rozzell said the meeting concerned the sales tax question. The question of whether to keep the three per cent tax will be put to the voters in the November general election.

The vote is a result of a referendum headed last year by Alex Washburn, Hope newspaper publisher. Washburn's proposal would return the sales tax rate to two cents on the dollar, the rate it was before the 1957 legislature enacted the one per cent increase.

The Education Assn. has previously announced that a campaign would be waged to keep the sales for the organization, said Faubus' aid would be sought.

The governor said yesterday he didn't know "exactly what role I will play" in any move to keep the tax rate.

"But I will say this now," he added, "there is no indication the need is any less now for the sales tax increase than there was when it was voted into effect."

He said if the voters wiped out the increase "it would adversely affect almost every department in the state, especially those departments that render the most assistance to the ordinary people."

Faubus has previously pointed out that the sales tax hike, in addition to financing teacher salary raises, had made possible improvements in state services.

The boost brings in about 15 million dollars in additional state revenue annually.

London Again Has Racial Trouble

LONDON (AP)—Race rioters hurled gasoline bombs into a Negro's house Thursday night, then besieged two policemen who dashed in to put out the blaze.

The house in Paddington, an area adjoining London's racial storm center of Notting Hill, had been bombarded with milk bottles and garbage earlier in the day.

The mob gathered quietly shortly before midnight. The occupants, a 27-year-old Jamaican and his wife, were not at home. Neighbors on either side were quietly told to move out.

The door of the target house was broken down and bombs were hurled into the hallway. Two policemen dashed in and threw one bomb back into the street. It burst two girls in the crowd.

Then two mob members, teenagers-turned-on-the-police, dashed back into the house and barricaded themselves against a barrage of stones and bottles.

Fire engines and police reinforcements turned up to rescue them.

Sen. McClellan Takes Blast at High Court, Ex-President Truman

Group Successful in Keeping Out Negro Students

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—A group of about 50 segregationist white students apparently succeeded today in keeping Negroes out of integrated Van Buren High School.

But they failed in their ban that hundreds of other white students would join them in their boycott, which started Thursday. One striker had said Thursday night:

"You'll see very few white kids in there (the school) tomorrow."

Newsmen watching all three entrances to the 600 - pupil high school did not see any of the 13 Negro students arrive at class time, 8 a.m. (CST). Later, reporters who were permitted inside the two-story, red brick building, found only white students in the classrooms.

The leaders of the student strike stationed themselves across the street from the high school and called to other students to join them as they arrived for class.

The strikers fashioned a cardboard sign and attached it to a telephone pole. It read:

"Chicken whites go to school with niggers."

A sprinkling of girls joined the striking group. Loud cheers went up as a student left the school ground to join them.

But a huge majority of Van Buren High's students attended class as usual.

One school official said, "Those are nice kids," referring to the students who filed into the building hurriedly when the first buzzer sounded. Nodding toward the strikers, he said:

"It's the few out there that get the publicity."

The official estimated that only about 35 of the striking group actually were enrolled in the high school.

As the boycotting white students milled about, a number of white adults watched quietly from automobiles and street corners.

Scorning a guard's threat to shoot them, the rebellious white youths burned a Negro in effigy on the campus Thursday night. Several boasted that their parents were behind them had given them permission to strike.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said last night he hoped to be spared the necessity of taking action on the Central High School integration controversy.

Find $3000 Diamond at Murfreesboro

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Perry Hammett, a tourist from Las Vegas, Nev., yesterday found a flawless 3-carat diamond at the Crater of Diamonds near here.

He found the clear white stone—worth an estimated $2,700—while diamond hunting with his wife as part of their vacation trip. Under rules of the crater, finders are keepers of any diamond less than five carats. The management gets a percentage of larger stones.

Mrs. Howard Miller, one of the operators of the crater, said Hammett told her he planned to have the stone cut. She estimated it would cut to "at least a 1½-carat perfect gem."

At the present market price of $1,800 a carat, the cut stone would be worth about $2,700, she said.

Committees Set Up for Stock Show

A special meeting was held recently in the Chamber of Commerce office to formulate plans for the annual Third District Livestock Show parade and annual tour.

The following committee was appointed by President Frank Douglas: Ben Owen, Chairman; Arch Wylie, Vice Chairman; L. B. Tooley and Post Rogers, Publicity; Scrub Mosier and Bob Daniels, arrangements for tour; Ben Moore and C. O. Temple, arrangements for riding clubs; Bill Gentry, pets division; Henry Seamans, decorations; Jon Barabarto, bands; Tom Wardlow, Clyde Coffee, Mrs. Virginia Hosmer, Mrs. Charles Wylie, Terrell Connors, Guy Griggs and LaGrone Williams, along with others to be appointed later, will assist where needed.

A change has been made this year with respect to the parade. Instead of having the usual kick-off parade on Monday and another rodeo parade on Thursday it was decided to have only one parade and it would be held Wednesday afternoon, September 24th at 2:30.

This parade will have the usual civic and school floats, pets, bands, decorated cars and bicycles, riding clubs, rodeo performers and those others who usually ride in a rodeo parade.

Prices in the amount of $255.00 have been set up to be distributed as follows: Civic floats — first place $35.00, second place $25.00, third place $15.00; White school floats — first place $35.00, second place $25.00, third place $15.00; Negro civic and school floats — first place $35.00, second place $25.00, third place $15.00; Pets — first place $10.00, second place $5.00; Decorated bicycles, scooters or toy wagons — first place $5.00, second place $3.00 and the next seven places $1.00 each.

The annual tour to advertise the show will be Wednesday, September 17th. Cars will leave the Coliseum at Fair Park at 7 a. m. and visit towns in an eight county area, returning to Hope late that afternoon. The tour committee is planning to have at least twenty cars of Livestock Show Boosters make the tour this year. They suggest that you make plans now and advise them so that necessary arrangements can be made.

The amendment, authored by Jim Johnson, of Crosscut, will be voted on in the Nov. 4 general election. It has been attacked in the courts because of an allegedly improper ballot title.

The amendment provides for the establishment of a powerful State Rights Commission, closing of integrated schools and tighten voter requirements among other things.

The resolution by the Hot Springs delegation says the amendment would "set up a commission beyond reach of the courts with the power to deny constitutional rights of freedom of speech, press and thought."

It also says the amendment is contrary to American principles of free democratic government and to principles of the Arkansas Democratic Party. It would put the party on record as opposing the amendment.

Attorney James W. Chesnut, who was elected head of the Hot Springs delegation, authored the resolution.

Interpretation of 'Law of the Land' Wrong

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan D-Ark today leveled heavy criticism at the U. S. Supreme Court and former President Harry S. Truman.

In a speech prepared for the Arkansas State Democratic Convention here, McClellan declared that if the Supreme Court ruling for desegregation is the "law of the land," then the high tribunal was bound by its earlier decisions approving separate but equal school facilities for the races.

The Arkansas senator, the convention's keynote speaker, said of Truman:

"... You did not vote (for Gov. Orval Faubus) in ignorance, nor as unenlightened citizens, as has been so shamefully charged by a former President of the United States—a source from which we had every right to expect dignity and respect in his disagreement with our point of view, rather than to receive from him a thrust of derision and abuse."

McClellan said the three most serious internal problems facing the nation are "the instability of federal fiscal affairs and the instability or lack of integrity in management—labor relations throughout the country."

In other developments, the Garland County delegation prepared to present a resolution condemning the proposed state rights amendment.

Resolution Condemns Amendments

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A resolution condemning the proposed state rights constitutional amendment will be presented to the Arkansas State Democratic Convention by the Garland County delegation.

The delegation voted yesterday to submit the resolution when the convention meets at Little Rock today and tomorrow.

The amendment, authored by Jim Johnson, of Crosscut, will be voted on in the Nov. 4 general election. It has been attacked in the courts because of an allegedly improper ballot title.

Hurricane Is Moving to Texas Coast

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Tropical storm Ella, with winds up to 70 miles an hour in heavy squalls, is predicted to move inland on the mid-Texas coast late tonight or early Saturday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau, in a noon advisory, said the large and very poorly organized storm was about hurricane strength about 200 miles east-southeast of Corpus Christi, Texas.

The disturbance was still traveling on its west-northwest course 15 to 15 miles an hour.

The squalls are extending in a northern semicircle over the extreme northwestern Gulf.

The disturbance lost its hurricane strength two days ago in passing over western Cuba.

Gale warnings and a hurricane watch remained in effect from Corpus Christi in Galveston, Texas, and all interests along the Texas and western Louisiana coast were alerted for quick action in case Ella should again reach hurricane strength.

British Trade Group Against Racial Riots

LONDON, England (AP)—Britain's Trades Union Congress, representing more than eight million workers, today unanimously condemned the race riots and charged that Fascists were behind them.

Secretary Sir Vincent Tawson told the congress delegates at Bournemouth:

"This is a call to action in a series and complicated fight—not between black and white but against forces which as a democratic movement we cannot allow to raise their heads again."

Tawson showed delegates a leaflet planning both Conservative and Labor parties for allowing colored immigration, and saying "Back Mosley in this fight."

Sir Oswald Mosley is head of the Union Movement, an offshoot of the prewar British Union of Fascists.

point in the integration controversy.

"The basic question was the expressed aim and hope of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for total integration in every field," Faubus said. He said the nine Negroes had been put "on display" throughout the nation during the turmoil over Central High. From what he had seen of the six girls and three boys, Faubus said, their attitude and manners were good.

"That is an indication in itself that we have good education in the public schools of Arkansas maintained for Negroes because these children are a product of those schools."

To a question about the wave of anti-Americanism which developed in the Central High crisis, Faubus replied: "No individual is perfect. No nation is perfect. Our imperfections are what makes us appeal to others as Americans. We do not claim to be perfect in this country or this state but we believe that our system offers a greater hope of the realization of individual aspirations than the Communist system."

The governor said he had differed with segregationists occasionally, but declined to say whether he personally favored integration or segregation.

He said that if a community wanted to integrate, "there should be no interference from outside forces."

In Faubus' view, the integration problem is more serious in Arkansas than in some other southern states because of a large number of Negroes in this state.

"The difficulty is in direct proportion to the numbers," he said.

Integration Spotlights on Two Areas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Court actions in Virginia and a group of white high school students on strike in Arkansas held attention today on the South's integration scene.

Federal judges in Virginia ruled against school integration — at least for the moment — in cases at Norfolk and Alexandria Thursday. One judge though, made it plain his ruling is subject to change after the Supreme Court acts on the Little Rock case now pending before it.

A group of about 50 white boys milled around the high school at Van Buren, Ark., Thursday for the announced purpose of keeping Negroes out of the classrooms. Their strike — that's what they called it — in a telegram to Gov. Orval Faubus asking his help — produced mixed results.

The youths had hoped to bar all 13 Negroes who attended school briefly Wednesday. But two Negro girls attended class Thursday and left the campus without incident aboard a school bus with white students.

Wednesday night about 20 teenage students returned to the campus, and burned a Negro in effigy from the school flag pole.

The group seemed to be out for a lark.

While the effigy burning was going on, about 45 persons attended a meeting of parents to discuss their sons' strike. They seemed in sympathy with the stand taken by the youngsters. One woman said: "The kids took the first step. Today. Now it is up to us."

One of the leaders of the student strikers said 100 of them would be at the school today "and every other day for six days until the Negroes are removed. At the end of those six days, if the Negroes are not out, then we will put them out for good."

Faubus said he would investigate the situation at Van Buren. Little Rock's Central High School, scene of violence last year, won't open until Sept. 15, after the Supreme Court meets to hear the Little Rock School board's plan for a 2½-year delay in integration.

Badly Beaten Girl Found at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A badly beaten young girl was found unconscious near U. S. Highway 270 east of here yesterday. Five hours later police took into custody a man who a physician said today is a case of mental collapse.

Sheriff Leonard Ellis said he had booked Cyril Grimes, 31, of Magnet Cove on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the beating of Nina Faye Trucker, 17, also of Magnet Cove. The girl still unconscious, was reported in critical condition today at a Hot Springs hospital. Her physician gave her "less than a 50-50 chance to recover."

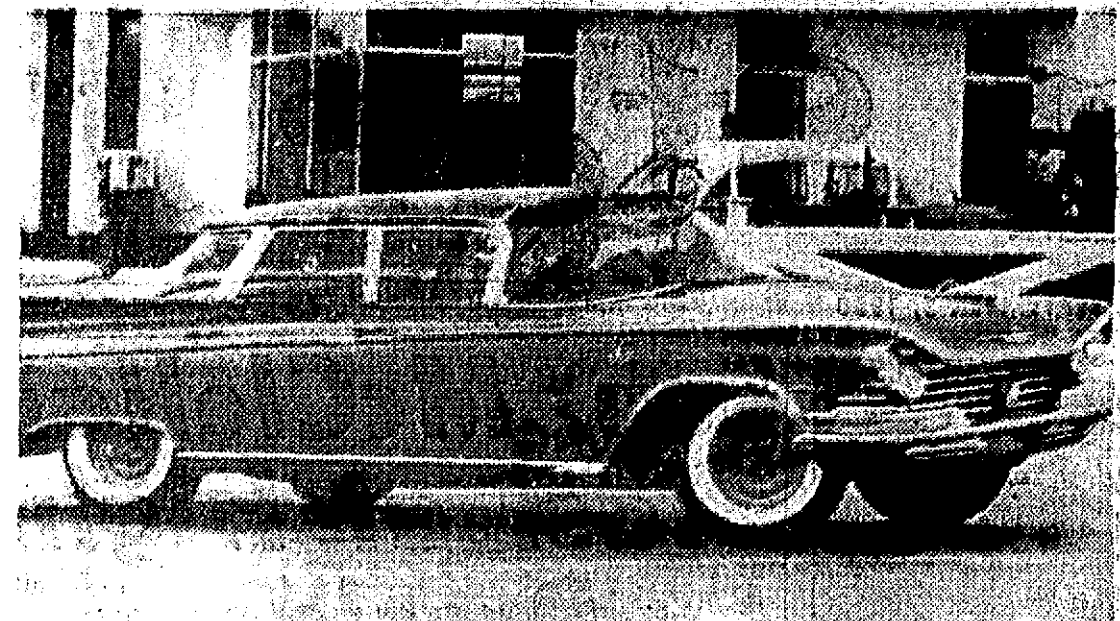

Ellis said no attempt was made to determine whether the girl had been sexually molested because of her condition.

Deputy Sheriff Freddy Miller said that the girl had been beaten repeatedly about the head with a blunt instrument, possibly a tire tool. She was fully clothed.

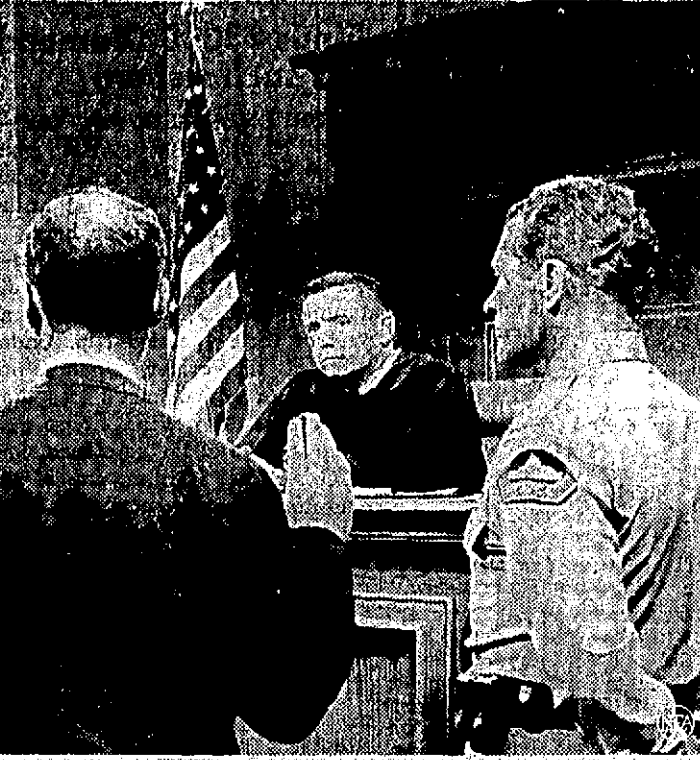

The sheriff quoted the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Trucker, as saying Grimes had taken Nina away to Hot Springs about 8 a.m. yesterday, promising that he would get her a job as a car honk at a restaurant.

Grimes' mother told Ellis that her son returned home about noon and that his clothes were bloody. She turned the clothes over to Grimes.

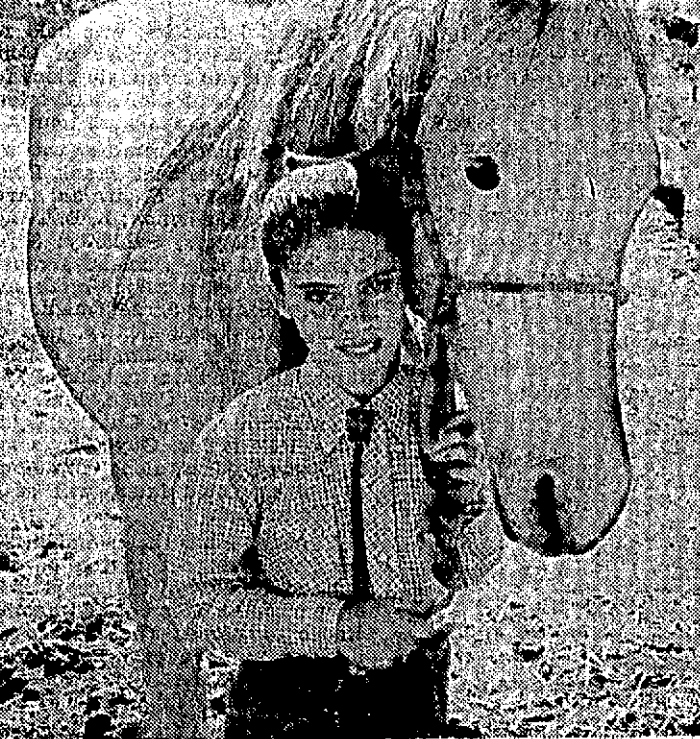

Grimes was arrested about 5 p.m. at a doctor's office where he had gone with his father, the sheriff said.

Chapter XXXV

Higbee was sitting in the far corner of the room, poring over mug books. To look at him you'd think it very possible that he might point out the murderer at any time. He was so engrossed that he didn't see Morrison and the captain come in.

"They went directly to the captain's office, closely followed by Detective Aden. Aden was young for a detective, and had more energy than two men needed."

"Flock and Grimes found the tires," he started with a rush. "They've got them in the lab now. He hid them in the rafters of his garage, but the lab says there's no doubt they're the ones that fit the casts. They found some shoes, but they don't think they're the right ones. They're the right size, but they think he must be wearing the ones we want."

"Well, that about sums him up," Morrison said. "He's going to be one suppressed son when he finds out why he's really here. You going to sit in Captain's?"

"ABC," he replied and picked up his hat. "I have a meeting to attend. There are a few prominent people who are going to ask me when we are going to catch the murderer and will give me great credit. I'll be back in a few minutes."

Higbee carried himself with his usual assurance. Morrison had to marvel at the man. He was a murderer and he was in a police station, but instead of being awed, mildly frightened, he was relaxed.

"I quite realize," he complained in a complaining voice, "that in my only job to help you, I can't but days a hurricane.

A morning bulletin from the Weather Bureau here said gale warnings and a hurricane watch are in effect from south of Corpus Christi to Galveston, Tex.

An earlier advisory said the storm was headed toward the central Texas coast and warned of rising tides.

A spokesman for the Weather Bureau said coastal roads between Galveston and Port Arthur and in Louisiana's Cameron Parish already were closed by water. The center of the storm was placed a little less than 400 miles east-southeast of Corpus Christi. It was moving in the general direction of the middle Texas coast at 12 to 14 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said winds and tides will increase today and tonight.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Tropical storm Ella, growing stronger in a steady approach across the Gulf of Mexico, prompted further evacuation of possible targets of the middle Texas coast today.

Residents of Port Aransas, a resort community 16 miles from Corpus Christi on Mustang Island, began an orderly departure.

The Weather Bureau hoisted gale warnings. Disaster units went on the alert.

In explaining that he had no power to block organization of a unit, he said, "They have the same right to that as any other organization."

Faubus said he knew nothing about a trip to Washington by the Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown, episcopal bishop of Arkansas.

The bishop left Little Rock Wednesday, reportedly to discuss the Little Rock integration crisis with high level officials. There were reports he would confer with presidential aide Sherman Adams, but a check showed he had no appointment at the White House. Efforts to reach the bishop were unsuccessful.

Faubus Dislikes the Ku Klux Klan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus declared his dislike for the Ku Klux Klan yesterday, but said he had no executive authority to prevent a chapter from organizing.

He made the remarks at a news conference in commenting on reports that a Klan chapter is to be formed here.

"I never did like the Klan," the nothing, but fires that match the tracks found near the scene of the murder do. Those tires we found in your garage were the same ones that were parked about a half block from where we found the body. We have casts of your shoes, too, and I think they are the ones you are wearing right now. Just take them off, and I'll send them downstairs for comparison."

Higbee still wore his supercilious sneer. "I believe that is what is known as circumstantial evidence. A good lawyer can tear testimony like that to pieces. I've already told you where I was. I started to go to a concert. It was canceled, so I walked around town for a while, and then I went to the library to do some research."

"They must know you well at the library."

Higbee stiffened, and his manner became almost conciliatory. "They know me, of course, but you know how people are in libraries. You get all wrapped up in what you're doing, and you don't pay any attention to what goes on around you."

"How about downtown—see any one you knew?"

Some of the man's arrogance returned. "I don't remember, but even if I didn't that doesn't say I killed Bruce or was anywhere near there when it happened."

Morrison felt like a cat that had cornered a mouse. "Mrs. Jannsen says you were," he said softly.

Higbee sank back, the starch gone out of him. Neither man spoke. Higbee sat looking at the floor and Morrison watched him with an expression of complete contempt.

Higbee broke the silence. "So that stupid old lady told you?"

"She thinks you're a fine upstanding man, far above us lesser mortals."

"At right, I did it, but it wasn't murder. It was an accident. I didn't say anything about it because I didn't think you'd ever suspect me." His voice was low and firm. "It was a spur-of-the-moment thing, nothing that I could have pictured happening even in my most horrible dreams."

"From all I've been able to find out, Bruce was a queer case. He didn't make a strong impression on anyone for months before he died. Why did you do it?"

"My Business is Groceries..."

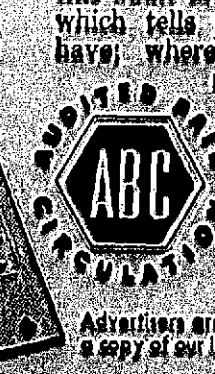

"It is my business to give the people of this community the very best in food values, prompt service, courteous treatment. The kind of merchandise that goes on my shelves has a lot to do with my success, so I buy good products that are made and packaged in accordance with the well known standards of quality, weight and measure. Buying and selling on the basis of these standards protects my customers and my business."

"I know from experience that good newspaper advertising is the best way to tell people the news of my store. In my opinion, newspaper advertising is not only the most effective way for me to advertise, it is also the safest way. When I spend money in newspaper advertising I make my investment on the basis of verified circulation figures and values that are as well known and important in advertising as the standards of weight and quality that I use in my own business."

The information the grocer refers to is found in reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations. This is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,575 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. The work of the Bureau is to furnish advertisers with audited information about the circulation of its publisher members.

At regular intervals the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is a member, sends an experienced circulation auditor to make a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records. The FACTS established by this audit are published in an A.B.C. report which tells you: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how obtained; how much people pay for our paper; and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

Legion Wants Understanding Foreign Policy

By EARL AYKROID

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Legion today called for a U.S. foreign policy "that the American people and the people of the world would understand" to meet the challenge of Soviet expansion.

The legion's 40th convention rejected what it called "the principle of co-existence with gangsters, ruffians and murderers."

It said the Soviet Union has "amassed the greatest concentration of colonial power over enslaved people" in world history, subjugating 600 millions.

"This success has been due primarily to lack of a firm foreign policy of the United States," the legionnaires said, and urged that the Soviet challenge pressure be met with "limitless courage, traditional fearlessness and ordinary intelligence."

The delegates said the Legion is disturbed at a failure of the U.S. government "to understand Communist infiltration" in the Middle East.

The legion also adopted a report by its Americanism Commission criticizing the U.S. Supreme Court for adopting what it termed "The role of legislative policy maker without proper judicial restraint" in recent decisions.

The resolution did not mention

Sisell of DeQueen are visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. W. Patterson and Mr. Patterson. On Wednesday the Pattersons and their guests spent the day in Hot Springs with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Byers and son.

Mrs. Ralph E. Pyle is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Osborn after spending last weekend in San Antonio, Tex. with her husband, who is attending officers' candidate school.

Mrs. Evan Wray left Friday for Evanston, Ill., where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hazzard and daughter, Laurie.

Miss Margaret Arnold of Minden La., is spending two weeks with her mother, Mrs. John Arnold in Hope.

DOROTHY DIX

Family's Attention
Rattle Teen-age Girl

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My problem has me on edge. It concerns my parents and grandparents, who all live together. I am the only child. Briefly, I can't do a thing without them staring at me and questioning every action and almost every thought. When I come downstairs everyone stops in his tracks to look at me. If I read, they're watching and I get so nervous I wind up fumbling. I'm forever being told to "Watch out," "be a good girl," and "take care." How can I stop them? — Mindy

Dear Mindy: Your position certainly is not enviable. You are specific decisions under fire. Legion leaders said the court's handling of racial integration in the schools was a principal basis for the Legion stand.

The legionnaires acted on resolutions before hearing speeches by Gov. Luiz Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Chinese Nationalist president.

Also, on the final day's convention program was election of officers, with Preston Moore, 36, of Stillwater, Okla., expected to win the office of national commander.

the adored pet of four adults, who apparently have little else to do but worship at your shrine. Fortunately, you're a level-headed girl who isn't and won't be spoiled by so much attention. You can't change the grownups' attitudes and probably wouldn't want to. What you can do is create as much diversion as possible. Bring your friends home — seeds of them. Make your home the social center of the group. Encourage mom to take an outside interest. Remind her that the local Brownie troop needs leaders, that the Community drive fell down last year and maybe she could perk it up now.

This family needs something to hold its interest besides a teen-age girl. Finally, when time comes for college, hold out for far-away places.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm deeply in love with a married man who lives in another city. I've written him quite a few letters, even sending him my picture. But I get no response from him. Could it be that someone else is getting those letters? — Dumbo

Dear Dumbo: I hope those letters have found a well-deserved rest in some nice quiet inebriation. Little girls who write silly letters only make themselves ridiculous. Find a better use for your stamps.

I know this is a big order but I am taking a chance that you can handle it. How can I make friends and get over an inferiority complex? I never know what to say and when I do open my mouth the wrong words come out. I'm a bright kid at school but sure am a dummy outside. — Gale B.

Dear Gale: It's a large order for a newspaper column, but one that has been adequately handled by many writers. So many in fact that I've compiled a list of books just on this problem, which is common to many teenagers. Send a four-cent stamped self-addressed envelope for the book list on "Teenage Popularity." I'm sure it will help.

Fireman Thinks of Unearthly Blazes

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Lexington Fire Chief Earl McDaniel is thinking about "unearthly blazes" he told the State Firemen's Assn. annual convention Thursday. Fire fighters may have to develop a fire department suitable for conditions on the moon within a few years, he said.

"Today's fire fighters," he said, "must soon have extinguisher devices designed to fight fires in outer space."

Burglar Robbed While on Job

DETROIT (AP)—Two strong-arm robbers beating up James Hill, 22, on a Detroit street were captured in the act. They were booked on a charge of robbery not armed.

Detectives who questioned Hill about what he was doing on the street at 2:30 a.m. said he admitted having just burglarized an apartment. He was booked on a charge of breaking and entering.

Bertha Having Trouble With Pool-mate

NEW YORK (AP)—Bertha, the whale did fine in flight, but now she's having pool-mate trouble.

Bertha II, a year-old Alaskan Beluga whale, arrived by cargo liner Thursday from Los Angeles and was hauled to the New York Aquarium at Coney Island.

Recalling on a rubber foam mat and wrapped in muslin, Bertha stood the air trip very well—like Bertha I, which died in flight en route here recently. Dr. Carleton Ray, assistant to the aquarium director, sat by Bertha II, sprinkling her at frequent intervals with some Pacific Ocean water brought aboard.

Everything was just dandy until Bertha, 6 feet 7 inches and weighing 400 pounds, dunked herself in the 40-by-60-foot aquarium pool.

Bertha was confronted by Olaf the walrus, a foot longer and weighing in at 2,500 pounds. At full growth a Beluga whale—which becomes white at maturity—may reach 10 feet in length and weigh 2,500 pounds. But right now Bertha is outgunned and out-weighted.

Olaf took a gander at Bertha and poked his small tusks into her side. Bertha submerged under a large raft.

Olaf's very boisterous greeting caused aquarium officials to give Bertha a 24-hour guard. Bertha and Olaf were put together because of lack of a second large pool. Meanwhile, the aquarium folks are hoping Olaf will learn to tolerate Bertha, the first live whale exhibited here since 1897.

Union Lawyer Says He Has Explanation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters' lawyer George S. Fitzgerald said today his explanation for his role in a million-dollar union welfare fund loan under fire in the Senate racket hearings.

He expressed resentment that the hearings were adjourned until next Tuesday before he had a chance to reply as a witness to testimony involving him.

The special investigating committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) heard testimony Thursday about a 1955-56 loan to a Detroit real estate promotion firm which allegedly had repaid none of the debt and not all of the interest.

The loan was made from the Michigan Conference Welfare Fund. A staff accountant testified that the Winchester Village Land Development Co. paid Fitzgerald and others a $35,000 fee for telling the firm where it could get the loan.

Fitzgerald, a former Democratic aide to a Detroit committee man from Michigan, told newsmen the payment was made for legal services and not a loan-finding fee.

The accountant, Walter H. Hendon, testified that money from the loan was used improperly for various purposes. He estimated the union fund will wind up losing nearly $50,000 of the million-dollar loan. It has received only $104,000 of $29,000 due in interest, he said.

Fitzgerald contended, however, that the company has other assets and said the money will be paid.

Senator May Find Support for a Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators may find unexpected support if they seek American League approval of a move to Minneapolis. They also face opposition if the question comes up at a league meeting next Monday.

Two club owners, Harvey H. Hansen of Detroit, refused to comment on New York, refused to comment themselves. But Hansen indicated he would not interfere if Senators' President Calvin Griffith pleads a convincing case for transferring the team. Topping hinted he would object.

Detroit had been one of the clubs repudiated against moving the Senators.

The order was sought by Robert R. Rodenberg, ex-owner of the Baltimore Colts football team, who holds 75 shares of Senators' stock. H. Gabriel Murphy, who commands more than 40 per cent of the shares, also has thrown a federal court suit against any plans for a move.

Antarctica Men Have New Set of Pinups

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica (AP)—The men down here have a fresh set of pinups. And their favorite is Miss Massachusetts.

After heated electioneering in 67 below zero weather, they picked Patricia Nordling of Lexington, Mass., as Miss Little America of 1958.

Miss Nordling, 20, 5 feet 6, 132 pounds, 30-24-30, gets a silver penguin trophy in ceremonies today at Atlantic City, N.J., where she is competing for the Miss American title to be awarded Saturday night. The men clipped into a collection to buy the statuette.

It was a close race. At the end of the final voting Miss Nordling, a blue-eyed brunette, was tied with Patricia Evans, 18, 5 feet 0, 120 pounds, 30-24-30, a hazel-eyed blonde from Cookeville, Tenn. Miss Nordling won the runoff.

In all, 100 men spending the icy winter in the antarctic as part of the International Geophysical Year participated in the voting — they were 82 Navy personnel, 23 U. S. IGY observers and four foreign scientists, from Russia, France, Argentina and Australia.

They made their selections from Associated Press pictures of the various state winners, transmitted to the antarctic by Paul P. Blum, operator of amateur radio station WKCR in North Syracuse, N. Y.

Other finalists were Mary Eliza, both Morin, 18, Manchester, N.H.; Gene Lenoir Wilson, 18, Charleston, S.C.; and Donna Jannita Riggs, 20, Phoenix, Ariz.

All-Star Game Luck Failed for Farrell

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the last out was made in the All-Star Game, the National League had only one hero in the field, Philadelphia's relief ace Dick Farrell.

He had shut out the American League without a hit, striking out Jensen, Skowron, Malone and Ted Williams in a near-perfect two innings that came too late.

Farrell had been just as effective for the Phillies. He had been in half their previous 30 games and had figured in more than half their 18 victories with a 3-0 record and five saves in a month-long battle from seventh place to fourth, just 2 1/2 games shy of the lead.

He's been yesterday's hero since. He has won only once in seven decisions and has managed just four saves in 25 appearances. He's been battered for 25 earned runs in 20 innings over that span.

The kid right-hander took his lumps again Thursday night, getting tagged for four runs on four hits as Milwaukee whipped the Phils 6-5 in 10 innings.

That kept the Braves' lead at nine games over San Francisco as the Giants broke a tie for second with rain-soaked Pittsburgh by walling Los Angeles 13-3. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2 with Sam Jones becoming the third NL pitcher in 50 years to strike out 200 in one season.

In the American League, idle New York gained a 12 1/2-game lead as Detroit capped the Chicago White Sox 11-1. Boston beat Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Cleveland 2-1.

Willie Mays had three hits, one his 28th home run, for the Giants, who scored eight runs in the first inning. Stu Miller (5-7) the little juke man, went all the way, giving up five hits. Carl Furillo drove in all the Dodger runs, with a sacrifice fly and two-run single. Johnny Podres (12-12) lost it.

A pair of unearned runs in the fifth inning did the job for the Cards against Jaser Dave Hillman (4-7) as they tied Cincinnati for fourth. Jones (12-11) gave up five hits with one hit run unearned, and struck out eight for a total of 801. Set by Dizzy Dean in 1933. No one had fanned 200 in the NL since Johnny Vander Meer whiffed 202 with the Reds in 1931.

Bunning Finds Going Tough in America

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning is finding the American League's no-hitter jinx a tough whummy to whip.

The lone right-hander who won 20 for Detroit last season seemed to be back to form when he pitched his 3-0 no-hitter against Boston July 30. It was his sixth victory in his last seven decisions.

Since then things have been rough, just as it was for Bobby Holman, Mel Parnell and Bob Kegan—the last three to pitch no-hitters in the AL.

Holman got his in his first major league start with the St. Louis Browns back in 1953. He didn't complete another game in the majors and was out of business two months later.

Parnell, the hard-luck guy of the Boston Red Sox, got his in 1950—then went into self-imposed retirement because of injury less than a year later.

Kegan was the only major leaguer to pitch a no-hitter last year. The Chicago White Sox sent him to the minors this season.

Bunning hasn't been able to pitch a complete game in nine starts since his big day in Boston, and has lost four of six decisions.

Thursday he won for only the second time since the no-hitter, beating the White Sox 11-4. But he again wasn't around for the finish—after pitching perfect ball for the first four innings.

The loss dropped the Sox 12 1/2 games behind idle New York again and reduced the Yankees' pennant-clinching magic number to nine.

Boston beat Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Cleveland 2-1 in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, first place Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 9-5 in 10 innings, San Francisco walloped Los Angeles 13-3 and St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Pete Ruppels drove in a pair of runs for the Red Sox as Baltimore dropped into a tie for fourth with Detroit. His double tied it 2-1 in the fifth, and he singled home the winner in a three-run seventh against loser Milt Pappas (9-8).

Rookie Bill Monbouquette (2-4) gave up only three singles, all the relief. Both Bjug's runs were unearned, managed as Murray Wall earned.

Roger Maris broke up a shutout with his 24th home run, a two-run belt in the sixth, as the A's ended Cal McLish's winning streak at six. McLish (14-7) allowed only four hits in his seven Tulsa head of the homer. Ralph Injalling, giving up a single to Bill Terry (19-11) was the winner with a nine-inning, losing a shutout in the eighth on Vic Power's triple and an infield single by Minnie Minoso.

Broyles Feels Better After Scrimmage

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A ray of optimism shone in the University of Arkansas football camp yesterday.

Owen Frank Broyles said, "Our scrimmage sessions have been real beneficial. The boys know that they have to drive through that line, and they're working on it."

The Hays will hold a game-type scrimmage tomorrow refereed by Southwest Conference officials.

"That way," Broyles said, "we can correct any unintentional infractions that we are habitually making."

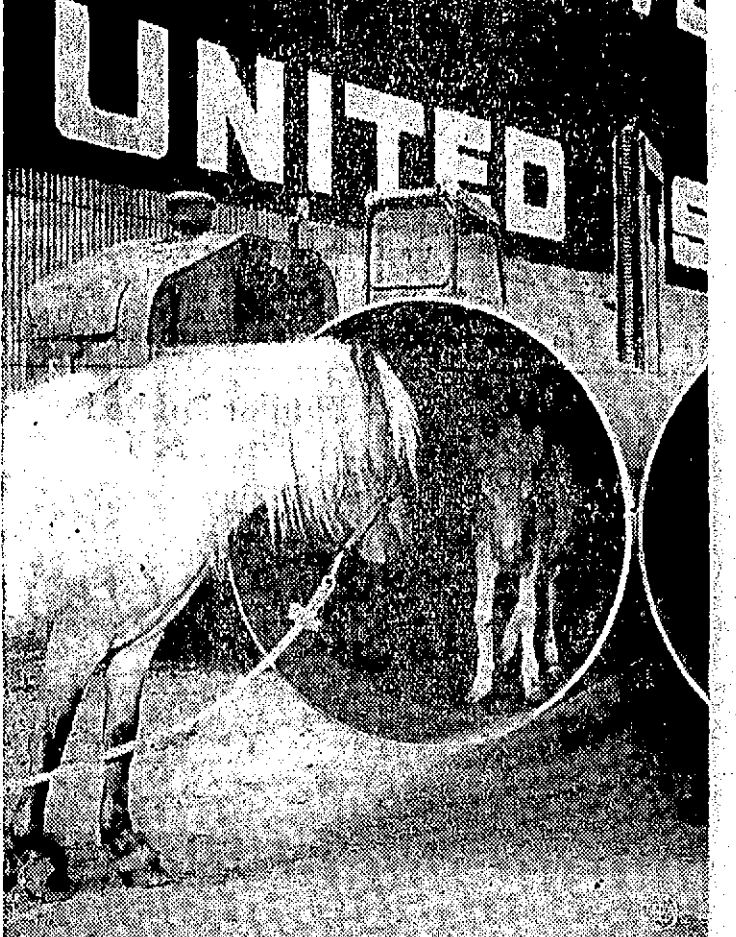

Roster shifts yesterday put Phil Dwyer of Penna. at first (right) and guard in place of John Bales of Texas. Bales is scheduled with a bruised shoulder suffered in practice Wednesday.

Yesterday's practice was devoted to punting, pass defense and a defensive scrimmage.

MERRY MONSTER—In one ear and out the other goes the cloth used by this smiling visitor to London to clear his head. Although he looks like a refugee from a horror film the merry monster really means Fernando Suderis, a member of the touring Ceylon National Dancers troupe.

JUST "HORSEING" AROUND—A Shetland pony colt, who apparently likes to "horse" around, finds out that he can't hide from his mother even inside a long length of 36-inch pipe. The pipe, which will be used for a natural gas pipeline extending from Texas to Illinois, is the largest ever produced at the Utah Pipe Mill of U.S. Steel, near Provo, Utah.

Aussie Sees Obstacle to Tennis Title

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Ashley Cooper of Australia admitted today there was just one obstacle that might keep him from winning the national tennis championship.

"I've got to improve on my service," he said. "Otherwise I'm playing well enough to win this tournament."

Cooper, who moved into the semifinals with a 9-7, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2 victory over Vic Seixas Thursday, figures that in the final he will meet his Davis Cup teammate Mal Anderson in a replay of last year's championship.

First, he must get past Neale Fraser, the left-handed Aussie who turned back Alex Olmedo of Peru 6-0, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

In today's quarter-finals, Anderson went up against Dick Savitt and Herbie Flam and Ulf Schmidt.

Two women's quarter-finals also were on the program. Top-seeded Althea Gibson tangled with Brit's Christine Truman, and Mrs. Beverly Fletcher lost to Brazilian Maria Esther Bueno. Two quarter-final matches were settled Thursday when Darlene L. Hard ousted Sally Moore 6-4, 6-3, and Jeanne Arli upset Mrs. Dorothy Kline. Seeded second behind Miss Gibson 6-3, 6-2.

Another Big Missile Is Launched

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A button pushed 1,500 miles away has launched another missile, the nation's most highly developed air defense missile.

The Bomarc, the closest weapon to this country has to a so-called anti-missile, was launched aloft Wednesday on another test within the SAGE air defense system.

Once the missile was poised for launching at Cape Canaveral, it was fired from Kingston, N.Y., by a technician, manning one of the largest and most complex digital computers in the world.

The computer is part of the semi-automatic ground environment (SAGE) system—an intricate network of radar stations and computer centers that guards the nation against enemy air raids.

The Bomarc, designed to carry a nuclear warhead from 250 to 300 miles, was aimed at a World War II pilotless B-70 bomber target somewhere along the south Atlantic missile range. For test purposes the Bomarc is set to miss the drone rather than destroy it.

The Air Force announced that a Bomarc was fired, but officials declined to divulge either the objectives or the results of the test.

The Bomarc, which homes in on its target while blazing along at three times the speed of sound, probably soon will become operational at 14 launching sites strategically located across the country. The missiles in mass production at the Boeing Airplane Co.'s plant in Seattle.

Says Union Lawyer in on $35,000 Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness testified today that Teamsters Union lawyer George S. Fitzgerald received $35,000 from Detroit and speculators who got a multimillion loan from Teamsters welfare funds.

Walter H. Henson, a retired public accountant, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee the borrowers haven't paid back a penny since they got the loan in 1955 and 1956. But he said they have paid $104,000 interest on it.

Fitzgerald, Detroit lawyer for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, was in the hearing room wanting to save his version. Hoffa, who allegedly approved the loan to the Winesapco Village, and Co. of Michigan, was absent.

Henson said Fitzgerald, a former Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, received a $35,000 under the fee from the borrowers.

Henson said Abe Green, Detroit real estate man and one of the backers of the development company, gave Fitzgerald a $35,000 cashier's check, but that the payment never was recorded in any books or records, and never was mentioned in the official records of the welfare fund.

Henson's committee staff member, said the loan came from welfare fund of the Michigan Council of Teamsters. The committee previously had called in a loan to the General Conference of Teamsters. The money was an advance on a development plan of the Winesapco Village, and Co., a tract near Flint, Mich.

Coaches Tell Kiwanians of Grid Team

Head Football Coach John Pierce and assistants Don Sevier, Gordon Bensley, Bill Blake and Donald Culp made short talks before the Hope Kiwanis Club this week in previewing the 1958 grid season.

Support of Schools James H. Jones also was a guest of the club.

Coach Pierce, principal speaker, discussed individual prospects, but lamented the fact that he has only 13 lettermen returning of which only five were regulars last season. Of the 40 prospects, 16 are seniors, 16 are juniors and 10 are sophomores, he reported.

Besides teaching the fundamentals and mechanics of football, Coach Pierce pointed out that his staff was stressing three other important factors, clean living, perfection at the job of self-satisfaction derived from a job well done.

The Bobcats open the season here on the night of Sept. 12 which will be followed by three other "toughies," all in a row, DeQuen, Smackover and Texarkana, before the squad can get a breather.

Gullible Camellia in Little Rock
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—There's a gullible camellia in Little Rock. William M. Shepherd tricked it into blooming, and it isn't supposed to bloom until late November.

Shepherd, a vice president of Arkansas Power and Light Company, raises the flowers in a greenhouse behind his home. Here's how he explained his trick.

"I've whitewashed the glass on the greenhouse where the camellias are," he said. "The camellias see that, think it's winter and get busy and bloom."

"He said he's done the same thing for the past four years, and got blooms every time."

Teacher Files Suit Against Hospital

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Miss Lavinia C. Parker, a large school teacher, filed a $35,000 damage suit in Circuit Court against Motion Plant Hospital and Dr. John D. Hagood.

The suit said Miss Parker entered the hospital for removal of an ingrown toenail, that through negligence and carelessness she was placed in an operating room as Hagood entered to perform surgery in another case, and that the physician thereupon operated on Miss Parker's right breast.

Hagood and hospital authorities declined comment.
